Forecast for Saturday 03 Jun 2023

Weather: Clear skies across the western half of the park. The eastern half may see low cloud patches at first, before breaking and clearing during the early morning to give a fine and sunny day across the park.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: 90% in west, 40% in east. Becoming 100% everywhere through the morning.

Low cloud and visibility: Patchy low cloud may affect the east at first, helping to cover some eastern slopes with cloud bases around 400 m. Cloud will break up and retreat back eastwards through the morning to give clear skies. Visibility generally very good, dropping to poor in early morning low cloud.
